CALLING ALL ARCHITECTS AND PERSONS IN RELATED FIELDS

By Jeff N Marquis and Kerry J Harrison

Attention you Architects, budding Architects, and persons in any related fields! Our Government also known as Uncle Sam has put out a call for you and your expertise. In addition, some other very important Governments around the world as well as some huge organizations and agencies have just put out a call for you.

Are you aware of these calls? Do you know why everyone and his brother are desperately seeking you?

In addition to all of these persons there are some very important consumers who are willing to pay big bucks for your services. Yes, big bucks but for very special services in your field and you are in a very good position to demand these big bucks if you can figure out what types of services everyone is so desperately seeking.

Now, don't start to panic on us. Take a deep breath and after you read this article we are very sure that you are going to see things in a whole new light. If you take our free suggestions we can guarantee that you are going to be miles ahead of your competition.

The United States Government is in a big bind these days and as part of its fire fighting methods it has passed legislation that will penalize any company who fails to make its physical locations of business accessible to all persons. Uncle Sam has done this because he knows that the time has now come for him to take drastic measures in order to meet the ballooning demands of some very important consumers.

Other Governments around the world are also starting to take action and they are doing this through legislation that will force companies to build all buildings to meet the demands of millions and millions of our very important consumers.

Who and what are we talking about? It's time for us to tell you and to help get you started. There are some very lucrative markets out there that many people are not yet paying attention to. These markets are relatively untapped, are growing daily at lightning speed, have demands that are starting to grow out of control, and the beauty of these markets is that they will continue to grow both in size and demand for as long as we are unable to find a way to halt the aging process or come up with methods to get rid of disabling diseases.

These markets are our seniors, our aging baby boomers who are fast becoming seniors, and our special needs population. These markets exist worldwide, are financially rich, and by the year 2010 it is estimated that for North America our seniors will make up about 60% of our population and will probably own about 70% of our banking assets.

These are staggering stats and we want you to imagine what it would be like for the rest of the world. In addition, as of 2002 there were about 750 million special needs consumers around the world and 55 million of them were Americans. As of 2002 These 55 million Americans had an estimated combined gross income of about one trillion dollars. Are you getting the picture as yet? Are you beginning to see how you can use your knowledge to enhance your financial future?

Here's our final tip to you. You need to do your research and find out what types of facilities Uncle Sam and others are looking for in all kinds of buildings. Pay specific attention to what our seniors and special needs consumers need most. Hints: Ramps, wider doorways, brighter lighting in buildings, accessible washrooms, better equipped elevators.

Don't let these opportunities pass you by. Act now and build types of buildings that are in big demand, or use your knowledge to enhance your financial future. Don't just think about houses and restaurants alone. Think about buildings such as: Hotels, hospitals, movie theaters, concert halls, sporting complexes, and even airports, subway and railways, and cruise ships.
