CALLING ALL LAWYERS! YOUR SERVICES ARE BADLY NEEDED

By Jeff N Marquis and Kerry J Harrison

Hey you lawyers we bet that most of you will be shocked when we tell you that there are some very untapped markets out there that are eagerly seeking your services. We know that in most cases most of us run away from lawyers but we can assure you that this is no joke.

Ever since the United States passed its legislation that in part penalizes any company who fails to make its products, services, information, and business locations accessible to all persons, the number of law suits has been growing rapidly. These law suits have been initiated for the most part by some very important consumers from some very untapped markets.

The American government has passed this legislation in response to some very important seismic changes that are taking place both in the United States and around the world as a whole. America has recognized that the time has come for it to start meeting the ballooning demands of these markets and it knows full well that it has no choice in the matter. You see, these markets are not going to go away and in fact they are going to keep growing both in size and demand for as long as we are unable to halt the aging process or to find remedies for disabling diseases.

These markets are financially influential and it is estimated that by the year 2010 in North America, they will probably make up about 60% of our population and they will probably own about 70% of our banking assets. Now if we look at the overall picture it is not difficult to see what the stats could be for the rest of the world.

In addition, as of 2002 another market consisted of about 750 million persons worldwide and 55 million of these persons were living in America. Their estimated combined gross income for 2002 was one trillion dollars. Yet a third market should be taken note of and this market has the potential to sweep the world like a roaring freight train out of control or a tsunami with no bounds. As of 2003 this market had an estimated global stat of about 171 million consumers and 18.2 million of them were Americans and the experts are predicting that this figure will probably reach 228 million by 2025.

We think that by now you have figured out who we are referring to. Yes, our seniors and our aging baby boomers, our special needs consumers and our diabetics. Just to let you know a bit more: As of 2003 there were about one billion adolescents worldwide and by the end of 2050 they too will be headed into the seniors market.

What does all of this mean for you lawyers? Very simple. To start with, some of the big law suits that we referred to before involve various groups of these untapped markets taking large American banks to court in order to get them to adhere to their demands as the American government's legislation has directed. America Online is also facing court action and so too is Microsoft. As a matter of fact, Microsoft has recognized what is going on and has been taking steps to meet some of these demands.

Now, you don't have to think only about these huge law suits and how you can get in on the action. There are other things that you can do in order to enhance your incomes if you take a bit of time to research the dimensions of these markets that we have been discussing.

Here are some free tips for you. As our population grows older they will be needing your services more and more to write wills for them, draw up sale and purchase agreements for them as they become more financially able to buy and sell, and much more. Now we are going to leave it to you to do your research. There are some very lucrative markets for you to consider and we hope that you pay close attention to their demands and needs.
